

YOUR DISCOVERY FLIGHT

You are going to fly an airplane.

Everything you need to know before you arrive, so the day is easy and all you have to do is learn.

AIRCRAFT

Piper Warrior N41459

WHERE

Salinas Airport (KSNS)

YOUR CFI

Erick Teeters, CFI

FLIGHT

$249

01 What to wear

Dress comfortably in normal, comfortable clothes. Layers work well at Salinas, where mornings are often cool. Wear closed-toe shoes, best for walking the ramp and working the rudder pedals. Sunglasses help; skip large-brimmed hats, which fight with the headset.

02 What to bring

Proof of US citizenship: a valid passport or your original birth certificate. TSA rules require it before any flight training, so we cannot fly without it. Bring your phone or camera if you like, though we will take an awesome photograph of you with the airplane either way. Nothing else is needed. The headset, every accessory for the flight, and a free pilot logbook with your first entry are all provided.

03 Information we need before you fly

Your full legal name, exactly as it appears on your citizenship document. A phone number and email, so we can confirm your time and reach you if weather moves us. Your approximate weight, used for the aircraft weight and balance calculation. It is standard for every flight and kept private.

04 THE IMSAFE SELF-CHECK

The checklist every pilot runs

Pilots run this personal checklist before every flight, and we ask you to run it too. Come flying only if you can check every box. If anything is off, we simply reschedule. In aviation that is not a cancellation, it is good decision making.

I	Illness	Feeling well, with no distracting symptoms.
M	Medication	No medication that affects alertness.
S	Stress	No pressure keeping my head elsewhere.
A	Alcohol	None in the prior 8 hours; BAC below .04.
F	Fatigue	Rested and adequately slept.
E	Emotion / Eating	Emotionally settled, and I have eaten.
