OBJECTIVE

The candidate teaches airspace from a current chart, to a student who has to be able to use it, rather than from a memorized table.

LESSON STEPS: THE ELEMENTS, IN TEACHING ORDER

Check each element as it is taught. Leave anything not done blank. Sign once at the bottom.

1. Airspace classes, requirements, and limitations
AI.II.G.K1 91.155, 91.126 to 91.135
2. Chart symbols, read off the sectional on the table
AI.II.G.K2
3. Special use airspace, SFRAs, TFRs, and other airspace areas
AI.II.G.K3
4. Currency of publications, and how to tell
AI.II.G.K4
5. Special VFR requirements
AI.II.G.K5
6. Teaching airspace so a student can use it in flight, not recite it
FAA-H-8083-9B ch 5
7. Candidate teaches an assigned airspace class to the Simulated Student
US-4.1

COMPLETION STANDARDS

1. The candidate teaches an assigned airspace class to the Simulated Student using a current chart, not a table, for about ten minutes.
2. The candidate answers "can I go?" for two specific positions on the chart, correctly, and shows how they reached it rather than stating the answer.
3. The candidate identifies the chart's currency date and says what they would do if it were expired.
4. The candidate teaches a method a student could use in flight, in under a minute, rather than a table to memorize.
5. The candidate names one North Aero airspace policy that is stricter than the regulation, and says which is which.
6. The candidate delivers a self-critique before hearing the instructor's.

DEBRIEF AND SIGN-OFF

Critique: the error, its probable cause, and the correction. Candidate self-critique first.
